ARCHITECTURE AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT

This handout highlights ARTstor content related to architecture and man-made habitats and infrastructures, including monuments, buildings and their interiors, land and cityscapes, as well as our corresponding incursions on the natural environment. Designs are presented in plans, drawings and models, and structures are recorded in archival and contemporary photographs, and Quick Time Virtual Reality (QTVR) Panoramas.

DID YOU KNOW?

ARTstor collaborates with architectural photographers with a global reach. James Conlon has focused on the earthen architecture of Mali and Yemen. Susan Silberberg-Peirce of Canyonlights World Art Image Bank has photographed Prehistoric and Native American sites in the Southwestern United States, as well as Spanish Colonial missions in California. Art historian Ralph Lieberman is producing images of contemporary museum architecture throughout North America, in addition to his photographs of European monuments.

We've launched six Architecture and Design image groups conceived as introductory surveys: "Architecture and the Built Environment," "Architecture to 1900: Plans and Models," "Urban Planning," "Design and Decorative Arts," "Environmental Studies," and "Gardens and Landscape Architecture."

To view these groups, visit the ARTstor Digital Library, and click on Organize>Open Image Groups, then open Global Folders>Featured Groups
